SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

CAITLIN ALBEN

For the past twelve years, we, the class of 2007, have all had the privilege of watching one another grow as students, members of the community, and as friends. We have had many challenges thrown our way and have faced many obstacles, but along the way we have always done it together. We have grown from being the immature class at Birchland Park to a group of respectable, caring, and distinctive individuals. The class of 2007 has exceeded all expectations and as a whole has risen to the challenge of becoming a positive influence for many senior classes to come. We have learned the true meanings of accomplishment and bereavement. As we have experienced the best and worst of times together, we have grown closer as a graduating class and have formed new friendships that will last for years to come. As Mark Twain once said, "Twenty years from now, you will be more disappointed by the things you did not do than by the ones you did." So seize the moment, enjoy it while it lasts, and as we begin to go our separate ways and move onto the next stages of our lives, always remember the irreplaceable memories we have made together here at East Longmeadow High School. It has truly been an honor being your officers, classmates, and friends. Best wishes to you, wherever you may choose to go.

-Liz, Kelsey, Matt, Cait & Lauren

WHEN I MUST LEAVE

When I must leave you for a little while -- please do not grieve and shed wild tears and hug your sorrow to you through the years, But start out bravely with a gallant smile: And for my sake and in my name live on and do all things the same, Feed not your loneliness on empty days, But fill each waking hour in useful ways, Reach out your hand in comfort and in cheer and I in turn will comfort you and hold you near;

And never, never be afraid to die,
For I am waiting for you in the sky.

in time you made a dedication

As the crowd rises to their feet with feelings of anxiety and anticipation waiting for that one last chance to take the game, a certain familiar voice drowns out the echo of the roaring fans. Pacing back and forth across the sideline, his presence offers a source of hope and motivation. In addition to being a highly respected football coach here at ELHS, our dedicatee has provided countless hours of support and encouragement to the Class of 2007.

Growing up in East Longmeadow, he was involved in many school activities and played a vital role in the school and community. He graduated from the high school in 1995 bound for Springfield College, only to return four years later to share his experiences, knowledge, and lessons learned, this time, with his own students. After years as an admired health teacher, he switched roles and became the newest member of our guidance department. Not only does he spend his time helping and counseling students, but he runs his own growing business as a motivational speaker.

Don't let his wannabe John Cena tough-guy image fool you, our dedicatee genuinely cares for each and every individual here at ELHS. Whether it be picking up twelve dozen balloons last minute for the Senior Semi, drinking a crazy concoction to help raise a few extra dollars, or getting everyone out of their seats at a pep rally, he has always given us 100%.

When it comes to our dedicatee, no task is too big or small and he proved that most this past year during our greatest time of need. We were truly grateful to know that he was there for us to turn to, feeling the same things we felt. It was he who was there every step of the way, whether it was just a quick "hello" in the hall or one of those long talks that was guaranteed to make you feel better. He has been blessed with the ability to inspire and guide, and we feel extremely fortunate to have had him as a part of our lives.

As our thanks, the Class of 2007 and the Aegis Staff are honored to dedicate this year's yearbook to Mr. John Martin.

CHEERLEADING

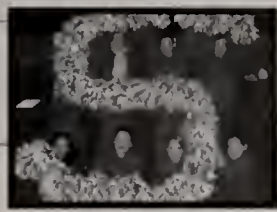

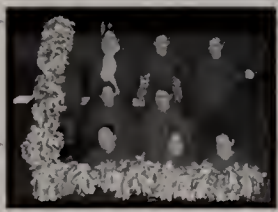

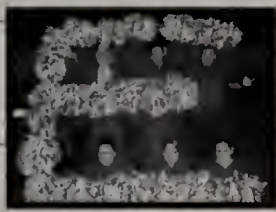

1. Shelby Anderson gives it her all from the sidelines on a chilly October night. 2. Nicole Moge shows her moves as she cheers on the football team. 3. Spartan cheerleaders are loud and proud. 4. Look over there, chairs in the air! 5. Aimee Lessard smiles big and shows the crowd that she's got spirit.

"A good cheerleader is not measured by the height of her jumps but by the span of her spirit"

YOU KNOW YOU GREW UP IN EAST LONGMEADOW DURING THE '90s IF...

:you can sing the rap to the "Fresh Prince of Bel Air"

:you remember when it was actually worth getting up early on a Saturday to watch cartoons

:you took plastic cartoon lunch boxes to school

:three words... jelly roll pens

:you collected Tamagachis, Giga Pets, Nanos, and Furbies

:traded Pokemon cards during recess

:you remember when the new Beanie Babies were always sold out

:you know the Macarena by heart

: "Talk to the hand"... enough said

WHEN WE WERE YOUNGER:
BEFORE THE MYSPACE FRENZY...
BEFORE THE INTERNET AND TEXT MESSAGING...
BEFORE SIDEKICKS AND IPODS...
BEFORE PLAYSTATION3 AND X-BOX...

:when lightup speakers were cool

:when you rented VHS tapes, not DVDs

:Happy Meals where you chose a Barbie or a Hot Wheels car
:getting the privilege to sit in the front seat of the car
:Double Dare
:Are You Afraid of the Dark?
:the Adventures of Pete and Pete
:Kool-Aid was the drink of choice
:wearing your new shoes on the first day of school
:mistakes were corrected by simply exclaiming "Do Over!"
:it was a big deal to finally be tall enough to ride the "big people" rides at the fair
:Millbrook was the place to go trick-or-treating
:fight over what was the better school, Mapleshade or Mountain View
:when there were snow days you would spend all day outside, and then

BEFORE WE REALIZED ALL THIS WOULD EVENTUALLY DISAPPEAR, WHO WOULD HAVE THOUGHT WE WOULD MISS EAST LONGMEADOW SO MUCH.

Mr. Joseph Calabrese

Mr. Joseph Calabrese has been teaching English at ELHS for the past thirty-six years. The year before he started at ELHS, he was a long-term substitute teacher in the Springfield and Ludlow public school systems. His first thoughts were those of studying chemistry at UMASS, but then switched to English. "Ever since I can remember, I have always loved to read, as well as discuss various types of reading and writing materials," he says. The students will be what he misses most about the high school. Every semester, he goes through a lot with his students and feels lucky to have been able to work with them for the majority of his life. When asked what some of his most memorable moments were, he had to reflect for a moment. His AP Recognition Award in 2000 was definitely a major highlight, along with being a Nationally Certified Teacher. Having the chance to relax is his major thought after retirement, along with possibly teaching in college or finding a simple stress-free job. However, he definitely won't miss all of the correcting that he does on a daily basis. The Class of 2007 and the Aegis Staff would like to wish Mr. Calabrese the best during his retirement.

Mr. Patrick Carey

Mr. Patrick Carey has been teaching at ELHS for thirty-four years and has been an asset to our academic community from the beginning. He came to us directly as a graduate from UMASS, where he received his degree in science. Mr. Carey studied various types of science courses and it was that passion for the subject that pushed him to teach. Mr. Carey hopes that his love for science will engage students and further their appreciation for the subject. Among the many things Mr. Carey will miss about ELHS, most of all are the students. His most memorable moment was a field trip to the top of Mount Holyoke where he left a student behind. The poor ninth grader walked four miles to make a phone call to the high school wondering, "Where is everybody?" This might not have been the best experience, but it's one of those things he can now look back on and laugh about. After leaving ELHS, Mr. Carey will be moving to New Mexico with his wife for a relaxing retirement and possibly a path into a new teaching career. The Aegis Staff and the Class of 2007 wish Mr. Carey only the best during his retirement.

Donna Haskell

Congratulations, Donna!
After all these years of hard work and dedication, it's finally paid off! I'm so proud to be your little sister (among other names I've acquired). You were always someone I knew I could count on.. someone I could admire. You've taught me so much over the course of my life, and each day, you teach me more. You have been so successful in life, and I know you will continue to amaze and inspire everyone as you have amazed and inspired me. You are the reason I've had a successful life. I'm so fortunate to have you as my sister, and I don't know how I would have managed without you. You've always been there for me, and I know we'll always be close no matter how far away we are from each other. I love you! Love always, Carol

Erica Jennifer McNamara

Erica, Time moves on so quickly, although, we never really thought of that while playing as young girls. We'll never swim in our kiddie pool again, we'll never dress up as doctors to operate on our dolls, & we'll never play with Buttercup and Allis, instead we'll be rushing for time to see each other in between our busy schedules. But life moves on & we both have to accept that. Along the way we've lost our innocence, but not our love for each other, regardless of what we say or do. I'm happy to see you move on to college, what you've been working for all your life, but know I'll miss you. I love you.

Editor's Note

It has been a long road, but worth every step. As editors and seniors, we obviously wanted to make this yearbook the best that ELHS has ever seen, not just for ourselves, but for the school and especially our senior class. We hoped to make a timeless book for our classmates to enjoy for years to come. All of our efforts were put into a simple book of memories so that today, tomorrow and far into the future would make you smile, laugh and enjoy your past once again.

"Throughout The Aegis" we as a senior class, have gotten to know one another, spent time together or maybe just exchanged a simple "hello" through the halls. Which ever that may be, we have seen the same friendly faces everyday, and that is about to change.

As teenagers we are constantly told that our four years of high school will be the best of our lives, but the best is yet to come. It must be said, that if it wasn't for this school, these people, and the up's and down's we have gone through, we would not be the group of individuals that we are. It is scary to think, but soon enough we will be without the people who have prepared us for our future.

This book would not have been completed without the help of many this year.

Jostens ~ We would not have a yearbook without you, and all the hardwork that you constantly put towards our book.

Amy, our Jostens representative ~ There is no way that we could ever thank you for all that you have done for us this year, from answering simple questions to completing layouts.

Grynn & Barrett ~ Our yearbook would be picture-less without you and your talented staff. Thank you from the bottom of our hearts.

High school office staff ~ Thank you for constantly making copies of the same list over and over, and for calling down the same students over and over. We appreciate all your continued efforts.

Ms. Rueger ~ Where to begin? We came in blindfolded and you guided us every step of the way. If it wasn't for you, we would still be on page one and deadlines would have never been met. Your creative thoughts and teachings are shown throughout the book.

Mac Attack ~ You ALWAYS had a positive attitude, even at 7pm on a Friday night. You kept us going, and we appreciate all of your efforts, we know that you tried very hard. We know it was hard to take over yearbook, as the first year is always the toughest, but you did a wonderful job and we thank you, and good luck in years to come.

To the community ~ Thank you for financially supporting us. We could not have completed this book without your generous help.

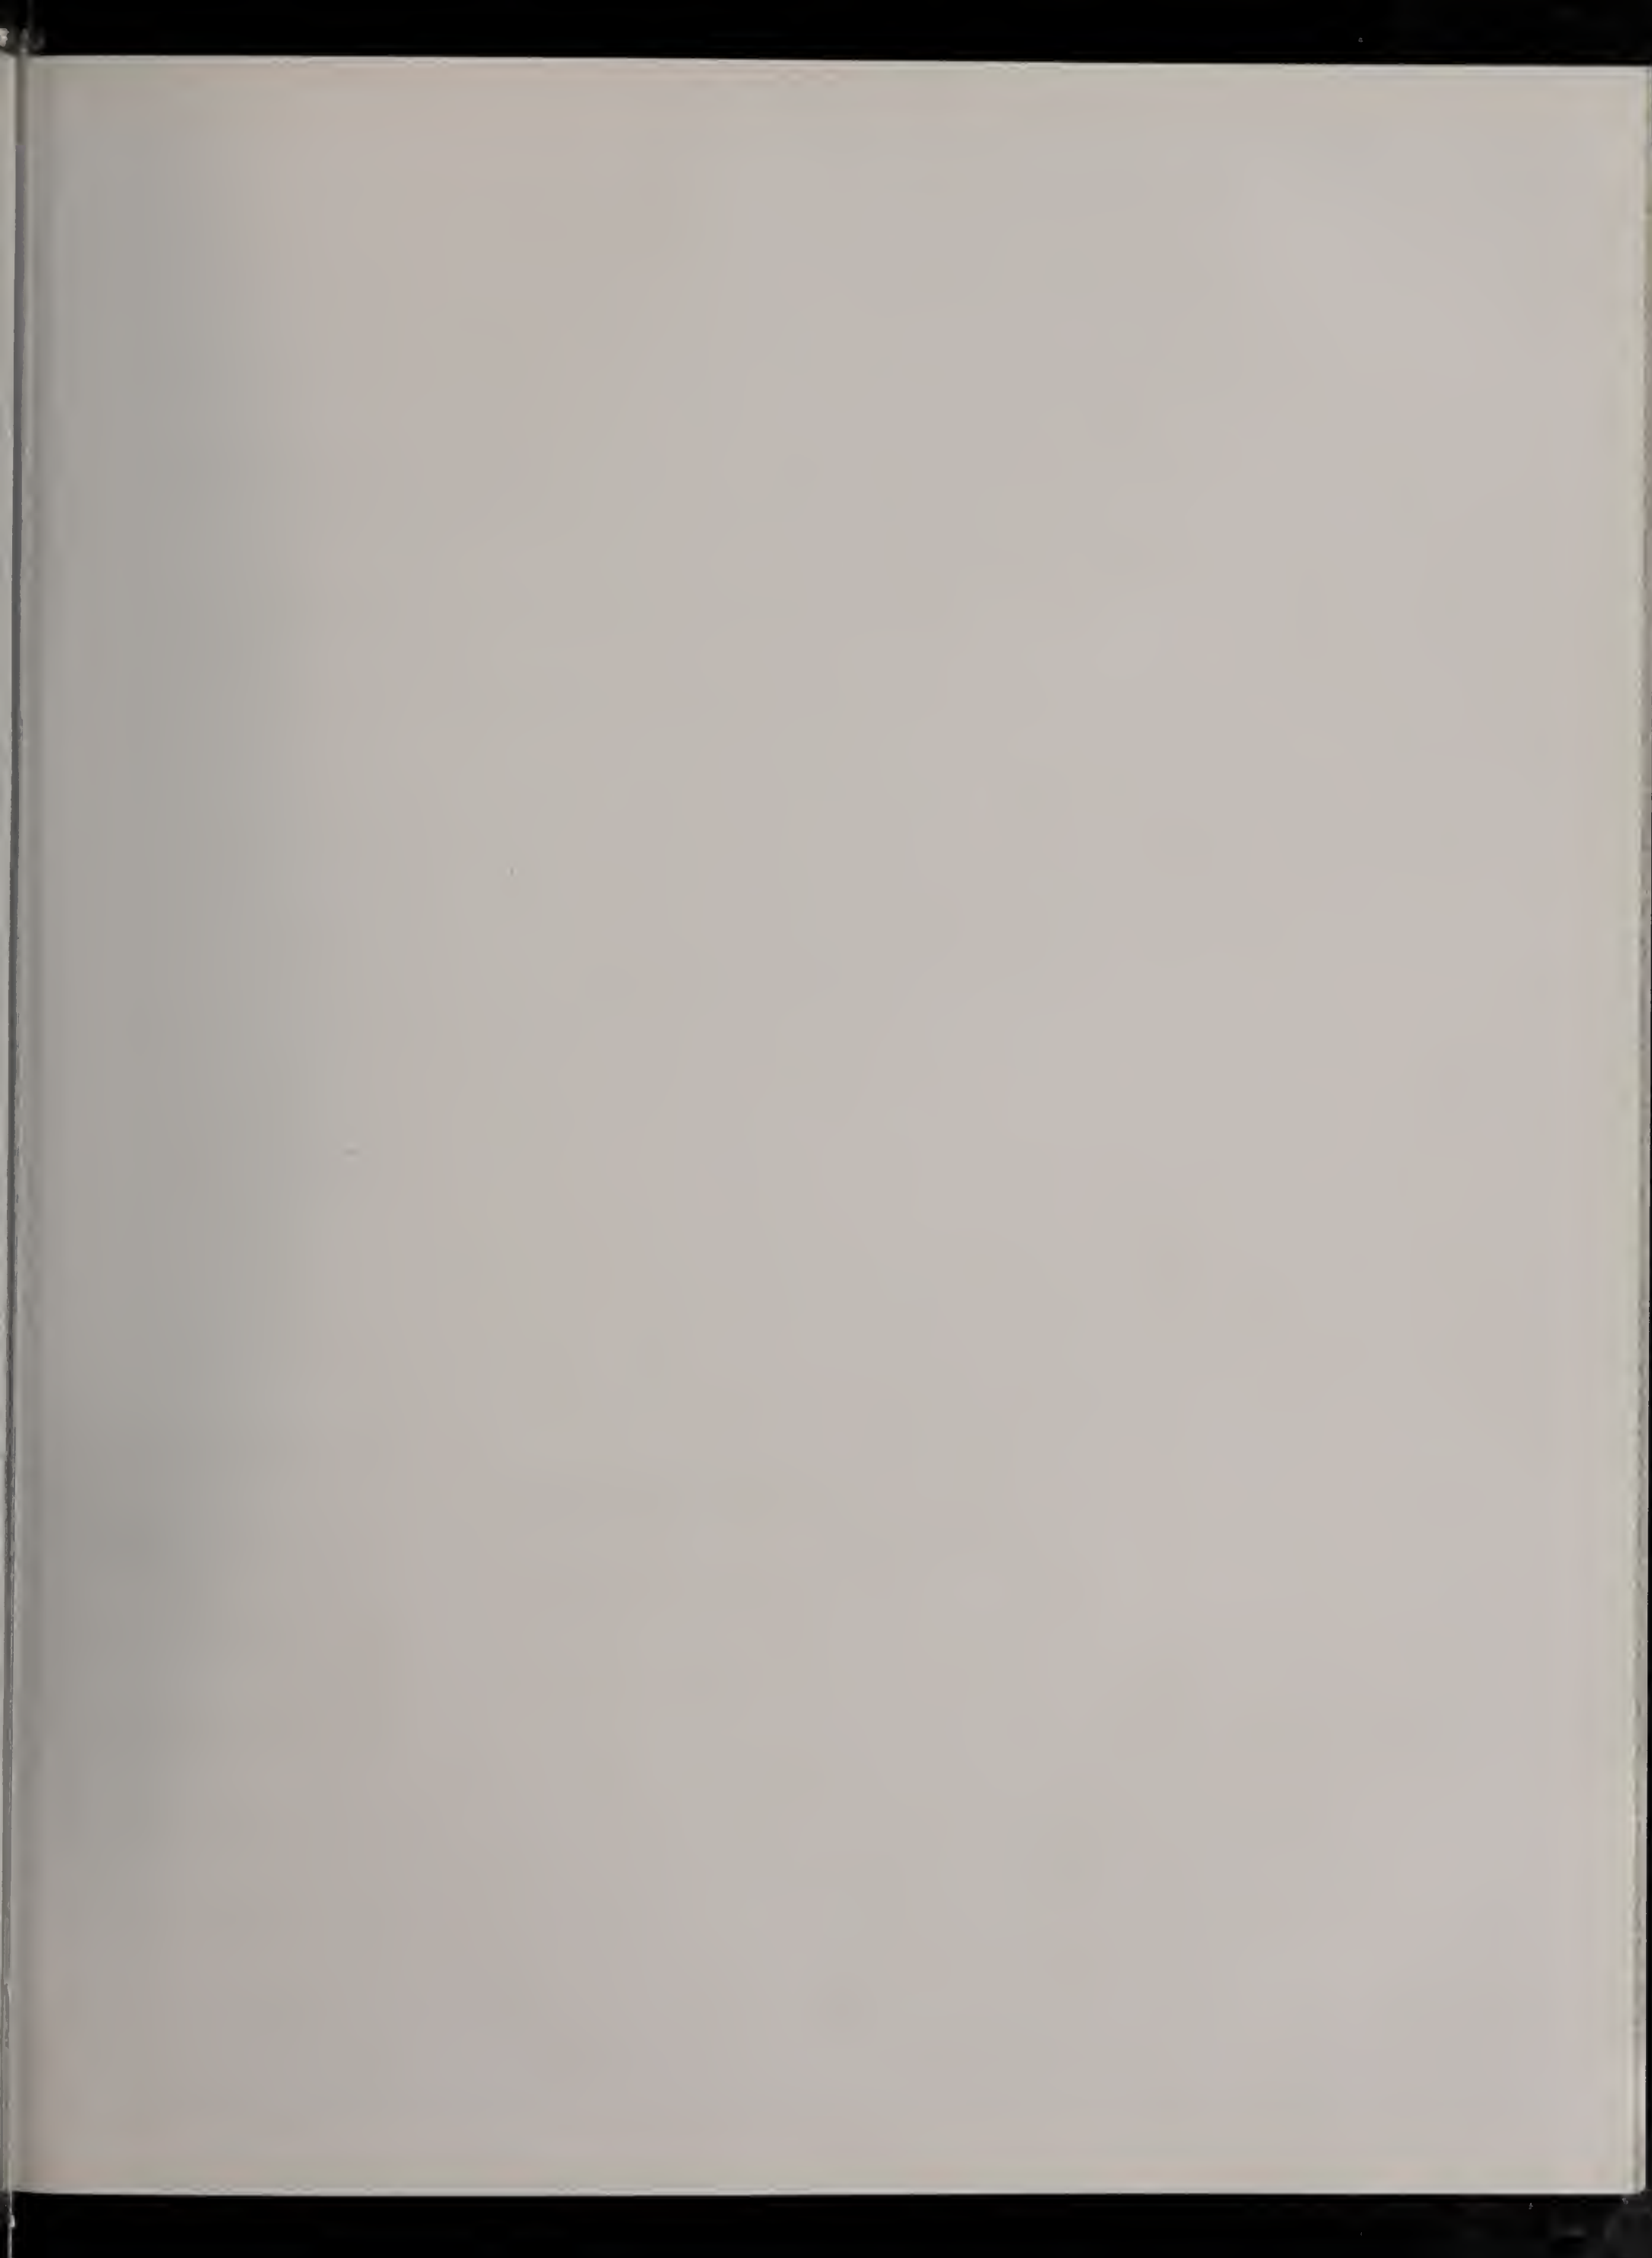

Aegis Club ~ Your continued efforts with advertising are deeply appreciated and your efforts have not gone unnoticed.

Chad Cordner ~ Thank you for all of your pictures of senior events. We would have blank pages without your efforts.

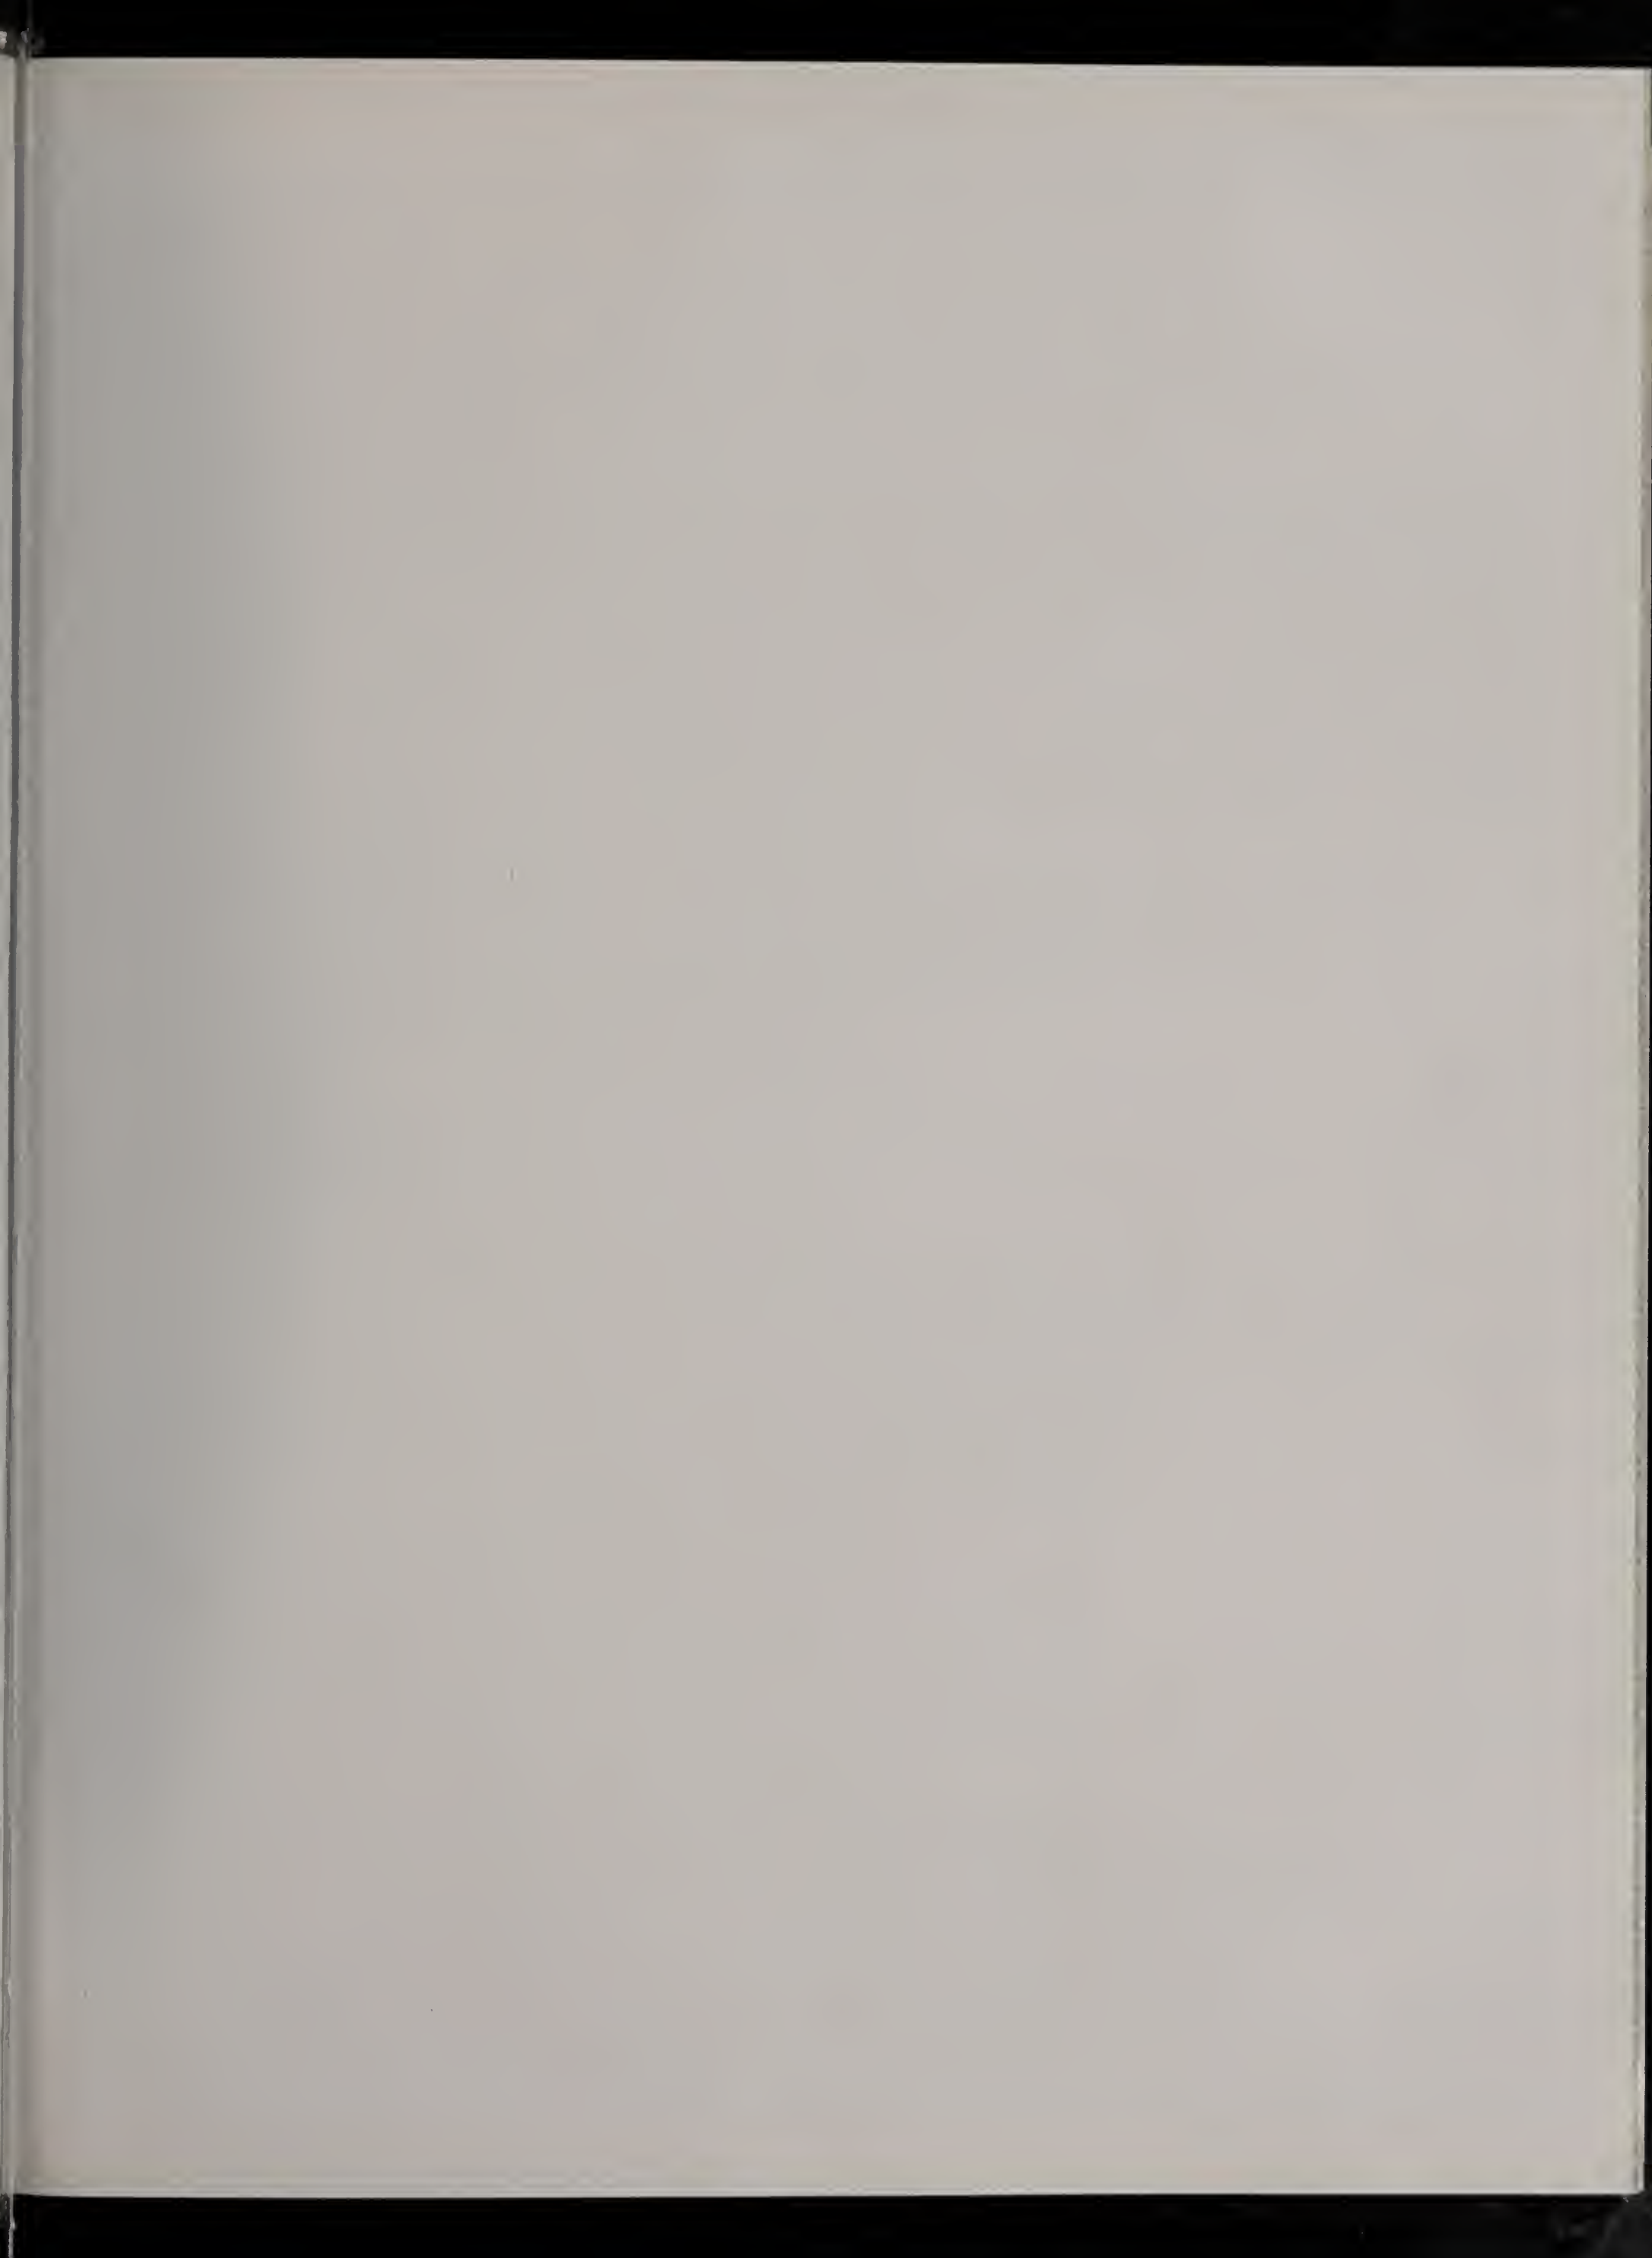

Aegis Staff ~ Kelsey, Jill, Liz, Caitlin, Lauren, Andrew, Bree, Mike, and Dylan ~ There is no way that two people could have completed an 188 page book, without the help of the key people. Your determination and hardwork through the year is what made this yearbook amazing. Thank you :)

Senior Class ~ You had to put up with so much this year, from ballots to nomination sheets, we thank you for your continued cooperation. We wish you lots of luck and only the best for the future. Remember, you wouldn't be who you are today without those that you have encountered "throughout the aegis." Keep everyone with you, your an exciting and amazing bunch, there was never a dull moment. Love Always, Ariana and Erin
